TO LIVE FROM THE SOUL
AS YOUR BASE MEANS
TO LIVE WITH ME

Masters Reading for Example Client

The Masters Reading is invented to give you useful guidance on your current point on the journey to your natural soul abundance in love and money. It is meant for students of The Ultimate Pleasure Path To Perfection as described in the Emerald Itinerary with the inner logic of Book Nine. It gives you dots of wisdom on your journey to your individual energy healing based Golden Flow and also to your Twin Flame based Harmonious Union, as two layers of One Beingness.

These words are not to be taken lightly though, as they can take you far and ultimately fully there, for they will not only give you impressions for where you are, but also on your core healing towards these States of Being, every time you order one. So, however core healing issues will remain steady in you until fully resolved (and States of Being to be gotten), they will sound different for you in certain moments and therefore it does make sense to order more of these reports over time, if you feel called to.

The answers given to you come from the circle of Masters of Eternal Wisdom that form a conclave of what is available for you in this universe at this time, that could be seen as wisdom enhancers from what is of course also the wisdom coming through me and us ourselves. In particular, the circle of wisdom is at this moment enhanced by one Master that is newly to be brought forward to the students on the earth for the time to come. We will for now call her Master G.D. and co-create the final accuracy of the answers with her.

Wisdom on your way towards Golden Flow for you at this time

Accept that you are moving to changes in the outer form of life now, however they will be in fact very little for you, even though you believe they are ginormous while they are little, they have great meaning and positive impact. Being an individual being with your own energy field, body and responsibility, you are connected through your love to your natural soul partner. Because you currently are very aware of who that is, and your core is healed, you will now enter a phase in which – again – the forms will adjust as you accept and approach your love more and more. The impossible is not so impossible as you once had thought and the price is so much more worth it for all involved then you may currently realize. You will be brought to a place soon, where you get a better understanding of how there is no price at all to be paid in Truth, as you will start to experience what gain this growth leads to. The profit of going further into this route will eventually become so apparent that you understand that the most profitable pathway is to chose the outer form of being together fully, however this being together may look at certain times, as forms progress and change all the time and nothing is impossible in this as you start to realize laws sometimes change and paperwork can be made undone and re-established. By that time you are well on your way to establish the understanding in your mind that this profitable path is most loving to all involved.

Wisdom on your way towards Harmonious Union for you at this time

Being in Harmonious Union does not mean one is devoid of progress, as the healing goes on eternally towards perfection; now things have however become different for you and in this time you start to notice this more fully, also beyond the mind itself, as more layers of life seem to become affected by this State of Being, be they communication and your daily life and more. What the Truth of matter is, is that after HU you start to process your karma in a way that things can be forever (eternally, as the souls eternal development) done with once you are through it. This both pushes the healing forward as well as it motivates a larger let go on your side. You may at this point still have large numbers of thoughts and emotions preventing this from going automatically, and that is why we remind and educate you at this time. It is morally good to ket go of karma, and in your HU State of Being you do not have to be confused as to what that is, as whatever arises in your consciousness that does not feel right is that and it will be very clear to you. The effectiveness of this process may still surprise you as well, and you can expect that to only increase. Try to relax into the process and expect things to only get better, because we promise you: they are. You are doing the work of letting go that is key to all of humanity and in that sense you are a light in the world and an example for all.

Some suggestions to help you integrate the Masters' Wisdom:

- take this into your heart and sit with it, meditate with it, make a nature walk with it or something of this nature;
- take good care of yourself, give yourself more then enough rest and let the message do it's work inside of you;
- thinking loads of chaotic thoughts and/or feeling a lot of emotion is normal, you best allow this to pass through you completely, do not try to stop this from happening, it will change again when it is fully passed through you;
- these messages are designed to bring a deeper peace in your heart, so that is what you on the long run can expect from taking them to heart fully;
- to make the most out of your investment, let your inner heart, energy field and also your physical body be truly touched by these words, really let them in in all ways;
- when you feel new words to utter, things to do, or changes to make, this is a natural and correct result from processing this wisdom and it is advised to follow such inner changes and guidances for they will in fact bring you closer to your states of being and therefore to your goals;

- new and peaceful feelings in your (energy) body and new ideas in the mind will emerge with some patience and surrender.

Thank you so much for trusting us with your journey. Please leave your reception notes and/or questions in our online community.
