Chapter 9 Choosing your Goal

The MEconomy does not exclude the WEconomy or the sharing economy at all. It is precisely after you have experienced for yourself how good it is for you to give yourself what you have to offer, that you really want to share it.

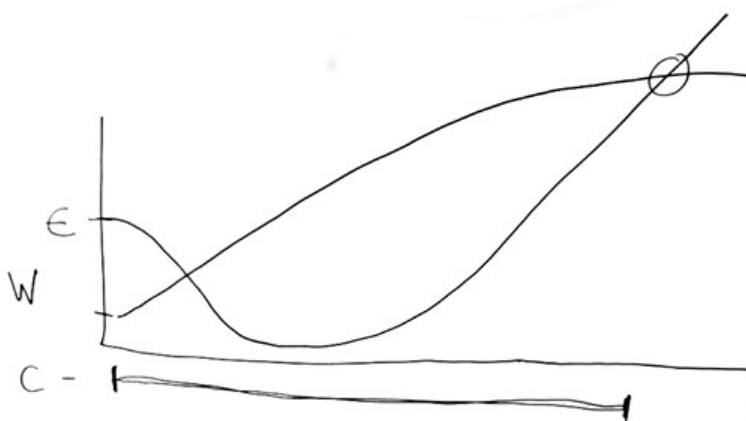

MEconomy is a wave movement that forms a new society like an oil slick and spreads like that. Twin Flames are the soul experts of this new economy.

Your Magic MEconomy Point

When you venture into the MEconomy, you will probably encounter this pattern in the relationship between money, value (w for worth) and creativity (see drawing). In terms of euros you are first average, then your money decreases because of your investments in yourself and the development costs and time. Subsequently, the euro line rises sharply. In terms of value, you go from a relatively low (own) value straight up in a steady line.

Euros and Value ultimately meet at the point where you can mean the most to yourself, others and the world. This is your Magic MEconomy Point.

The C-line indicates the period in which the euro line and the value line have not yet met and a negatively unbalanced situation appears. In this period you will have to use your creativity in terms of money-value happening, hence the C. Apart from the fact that creativity plays a decisive toll in what you take out of yourself and shape during that period. At least, when you listen to MEconomy's philosophy.

This was about your money goals, that are also the same as your energy goals. Then there is also the topic of love and relationships, in particular your Twin Flame Union: the journey to that will follow the same kind of movement. You will start to invest into your Union and at first it may seem as though only all the issues present themselves to you and they are big; your line goes down rather steeply. When you are persistent and do your inner work, your value (worth) gets to be more and more and then your energy invested will start to return to you.

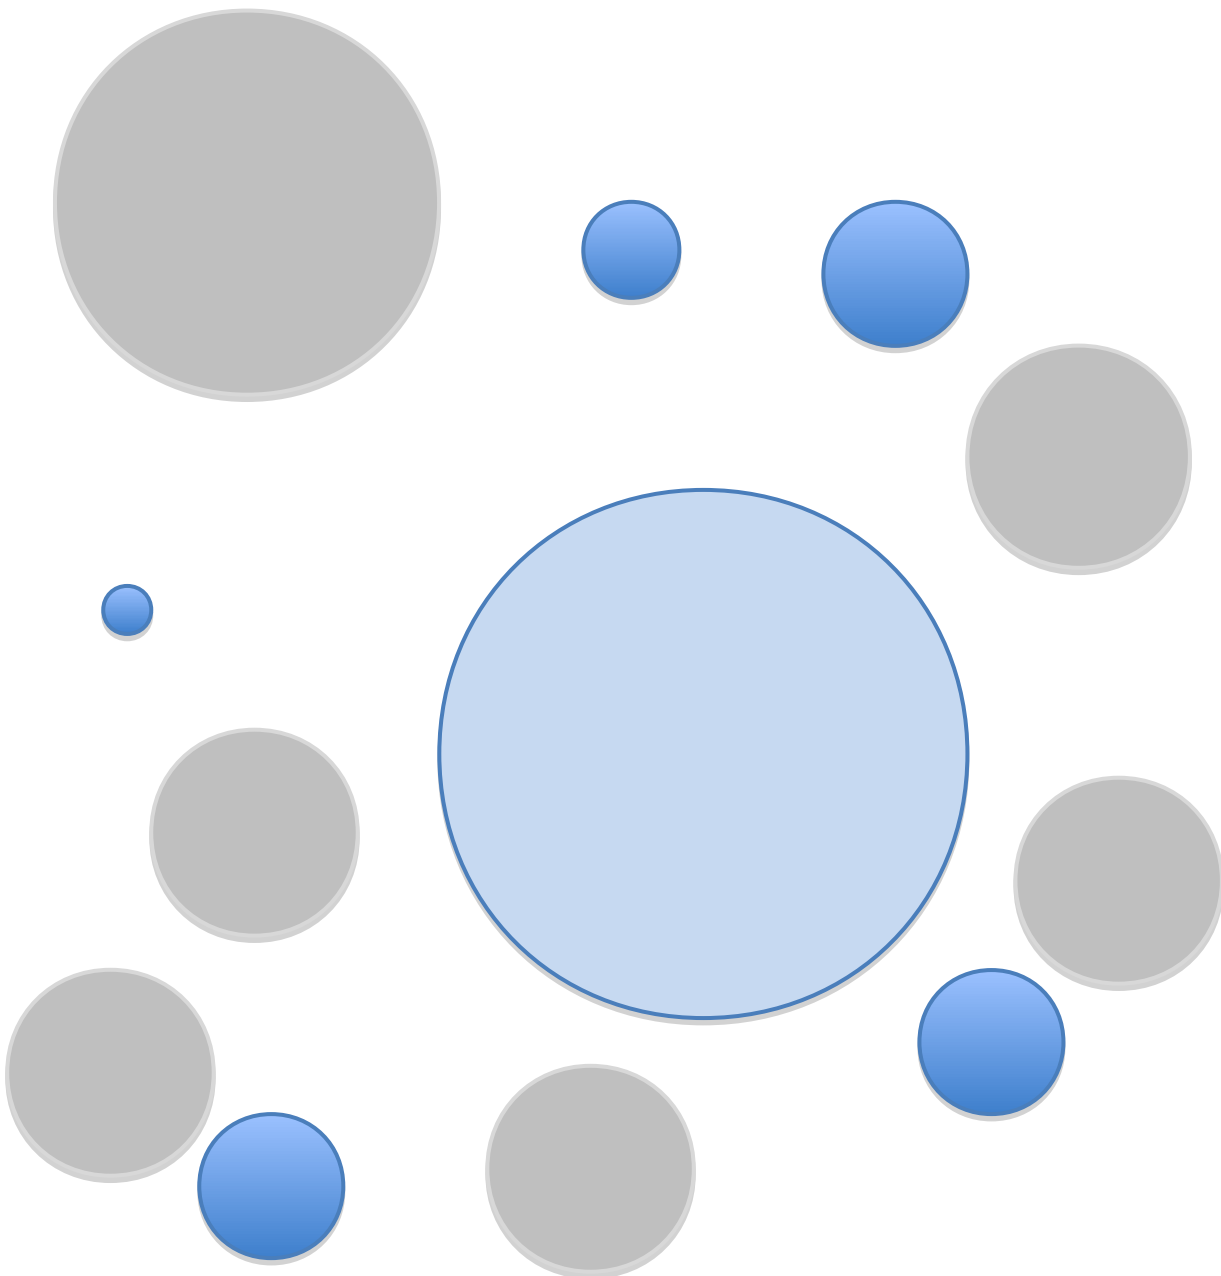

Think about what that would mean for your situation and future. Write about your findings.

Dream your near future

Do you have a dream that you want to come true in 12-24 months?

What does your wonderful life look like then? What kind of work do you do? Are you traveling somewhere? Which people do you surround yourself with? What stuff do you buy?

Write keywords in the bubbles. Then connect, if necessary, the bubbles with lines. Make an appointment with a fellow student and talk about both of your outcomes with each other.

MEconomy Goals

Now you will set goals for your near future. You will do this taking into account the differences between inner and outer goals.

Inner goals and outer goals will be interrelated. For example, if I am happy, it will be much easier to earn a lot of money. And with the movement of my essential value, I may have found the root of a coaching method that I can help people with who are willing to pay money for it.

It's not about personal goals and business goals; you can experience and classify these in both categories. It's about: how do I want to feel, what do I want to experience, in what way do I want to get to know my inner self and let it participate on the one hand; and how much money, how long, how many people, which places, etc. on the other hand. Get inspiration from your completed dream form and your conversation!

Following the journey of your goals, you do well by paying attention by general pointers to what's advised and what will not work, as stated in the schools Itinerary. Let's look at a couple collection of them:

What is Inner Abundance and how do I know if I am on the Path to it? 11 Facts

Inner Abundance is growing towards states of being first and then see your money and relationship goals come into being and mature through that. This brings effortless, peaceful and ultimate results that are eternally lasting because it is achieved by the soul, the timeless part of you (as opposed to the personality alone). There is an actual experiential pathway that leads to it and you know you are on it when:

1 Manifesting your ultimate dreams in tangible results comes from going deeper in your relationship to your soul that has a relationship to Source. You fully trust that this is so and you are open to feeling your way towards really experiencing this directly in your energy field as well.

2 When you are on the Path you always chose the option of going deeper, even when you see outside things or people fall away and even if that worries you to a degree. The results are a byproduct in a way, of walking an authentic path with a pure heart infinitely.

3 Holding on to acquired riches of the personality is not your priority any longer, and you learn the art of surrender in real life more and more. This brings about your deeper, more authentic and True identity that brings you in another flow of creativity. You are open to birth your Creative Identity.

4 You accept that to be successful in your MEconomy, you will have to build holistic business structures in such a way that it can work together with surrender and making steps by going deeper. You see that both are not separate, and rather enhance each other.

5 You see every day that your hearts inner feelings (and not your outer reactions to situations) lead you the way in your creative process towards your ultimate life. You follow those feelings that are sometimes also more like intuitions (a knowing) without hesitation every time.

6 You understand that your primal manifestation is an inner manifestation, that also magnetically attracts your outer manifestation to it when the inner is solidified. You do not look outside of yourself for your results any longer and let everything emerge from within.

7 You understand that this is still very new to most of human kind, however the potential to go this journey is as old as time. You see that Now is the time to take this seriously for yourself and for all.

8 You acknowledge you are a Magician at heart that desires to be available for others to find their inner Magician also and start a co-creation circle in that way. You feel joy when you think about making that circle wider and let go of any lingering codependency at the same time.

9 You don't accept projection any longer from people around you whomever they are, as you came to a full acknowledgement that your relationship to your soul and to Source defines who and what you are and not how the world perceives you.

10 You start a conscious journey to heal and balance your integrity so that you can fully, completely and Truthfully say that your inner state of being is in accord with your outer actions whether they are negatively or positively seen by third parties. You accept your Creative Leadership.

11 You accept that none of this is fully in your hands or in the hands of your teachers, and that the authority of that leadership is always co-created with Source, that has as it were the last say in matters. The States of Being you can fall into on this Path are defined and constituted by Source.

Inner Abundance is the most relevant answer to 2020.

Nine Points of Reference

In 2020 new circumstances surfaced on earth, that call for a new path to walk and the Master Magician conceived of an answer for you in co-creation with me. This is what you will see in this year in your experience:

1 You do not want to show yourself. Your beautiful mission remains hidden: for yourself and certainly for others. The crisis we experience will make it urgent for you to show it, however it is difficult to get over the reason why you hide.

2 You are being overwhelmed by emotions whether it is irritation or fear or anger or insecurity. You find out right now that you are not the peaceful entity you wanted to portray but there are multiple things active that are working somewhat against that.

3 Working online (a great way to co-create in consciousness!) seems strange to you. It seems like you desire to have it feel the same as working in real life but the question is whether you are able to bring across the same value when online as when live.

4 Your relationships are more vulnerable right now, because everyone is now in a position that is not the normal as it was. The challenge is to see how this can work FOR you instead of against you and seeing that your relationships can change to the positive from it or fall away.

5 Your brain can not follow very well anymore what happens. The circumstances have changed and that means you have become insecure. You are being invited to reconfigure your safe haven from your brain to your stomach and rewire your Being.

6 You are stuck because you believe that there is a darkness going around in the world right now and this seems like a sliding scale towards worse. The challenge seems to see beyond the sad and fearful times and know that they are – underneath the realness of suffering – having a light and peaceful undertone.

7 Your self-perception is closed for the light; the light that beyond the negative circumstances even more shines, which can in fact come to you when you would open your perception to it. To accomplish this, surrender to the seemingly involuntary rest can help.

8 However surrender does not exclude action, becoming overly active out of fear excludes surrender definitively. So when you would cave in and follow the idea to control every small bit of your life right now (as an addition to what authorities are asking you to do within reason as measurements) then you will miss out on the opportunity to deepen your mission and come out as yourself, and you will end up at point 1.

9 You do not allow to make the magnification of your emotions that the crisis stirs up, be about going deeper with yourself. Therefore you do not get any further then these emotions and the according negative thoughts. Instead you could see that you are asked to understand that a confrontation of what is present will aid you forward tremendously.

The book The Emerald Itinerary is an answer to the question that is hidden in this situation. May it be your forever treasure trove.

Twelve Twin Flame journey steps, realistic ones that lead to the State of Being of Harmonious Union, not to be read as a timeline but as approaches that will all need to be combined for success.

1 PLEASURE sexual magic transformation in your energy is needed, essentially this means to cleanse your sexual energy and make it flow correctly, in practice this means to feel and play magic with your sexual relationship with yourself so you will go through your love and relationship lessons and disperse any trauma you may have, you rewire your sexuality in the meaning of energy flow, this in the practical daily life sense means to prepare your life in the material sense: your relationships that do not serve are thanked and ended, your house and work environment will be prepared by decluttering and making space for them, your actions of any sort will be geared towards co-creating with their soul in daily life ways such as cooking or in magical ways such as herb potions

2 WISDOM miracle consciousness transformation in your brain is necessary, essentially this means to cleanse your brain of unconnectedness or false connections in areas that are not mirroring your highest structure, you rewrite your story in the sense that you go from ego story to True soul immediacy, in practice this means to face misalignments and jarred areas in your thoughts and emotions how they are stored in your brain and remove all traumatic stagnations that may reside there by facing the core of them and moving through these areas so that the natural flow is regained, this in the practical daily life sense means to get clear on your thoughts about your partnership: what will this mean to you, what kind of relationship do you desire, what are your values and future visions like

3 CLEAR & EDUCATE there are very specific thoughts (miracle consciousness side of things) and feelings (sexual magic side of things) that you may have that are working against making the full manifestation of the Twin Flame as friend, lover, teacher and mission partner possible in actual daily life and these need to be addressed piece by piece and healed, it can be daunting to even see what these thoughts and feelings are because we are in 2020 all raised to not think in the Twin Flame way but significantly different, all these thoughts and feelings have in common that they are about manifesting the forms of what a relationship is recognizable by in social norms, while the Twin Flame thoughts and feelings that do work will need to be about transforming the inner spiritual energy so that the form manifests in your reality in the way that will be only guided by what the inner planes tell you and you will manifest the best social translation afterwards of that as a natural result of that inner formative power in your individual case

4 COMMIT you start a serious spiritual journey on the individual level towards Golden Flow as this will greatly aid you in cleaning your inner space out and create a natural magnetic pole in you so that you can embody your part with a balanced inner energy working of opposite forces

5 DECIDE you feel your heart out about the union level of the same spiritual journey and decide that this Harmonious Union layer of the matter is for you as well, as this will greatly aid you in cleaning the space between you out and create a natural magnetic force between both poles on the bigger level, being the Divine Feminine and Divine Masculine forces in the union, that both have their own individual level responsibility within that, and decide you are open to the inner guidance about what polarity of those two you are on the soul level

6 HOLOGRAM you accept the nature of being human and that your life is formed by projecting from the inner out so that when your attunement is right, the result will somehow appear in your life no matter what and no matter if it sounds logic to you for the unhealed mind or if it seems physically impossible to you in the unconnected body, thus this step is about accepting you are a child of Source (God) at the core of yourself and you surrender illusions about control

7 TRANSFORM you surrender illusions about victimhood, by allowing in the experience of standing on your own feet, having your own roots from where you uniquely stand, grounding your own right of being on earth from the most subtle spiritual wisdom space to the most dense physical consequence and allow for a revealing process that will gradually indicate who you truly are in the light of Source, acknowledging yourself in every way in every inch from the inside out, as well letting the revealing process of who your Twin Flame is come to you in your intimate and down to earth human life because that is who you are on the Harmonious Union level of spiritual development

8 HOLISTIC accept your shadow or your unconscious as well as your light or conscious as both work together in one consciousness that has two physical expressions, the Twin Flame that was created by Source originally and yourself, do not exclude or separate anything off but work with inclusion, also accept the one you currently believe to be your Twin Flame whether they may be a false Twin Flame or the True one as for now, accepting them caused the best chance to accept the whole of it and not excluding the shadow and this strategy will lead you further until you are 100% in the True Twin Flame zone that is acknowledged with the coming in Harmonious Union that is an unmistakable State of Being

9 INTEGRITY make real life action steps to bring the inner truth of your heart or in other words consciousness, congruent with your outer world, thus using the willpower or ego in the right way by letting it be an integral part of who you are, without spurting forward and separating yourself thus from your consciousness (again) with every action, this means that you need to reach the state of being of Harmonious Union to be both sure that you are with the True Twin Flame (and not a false one) as well as harmonized in your placement towards each other and towards Source (so that there is no need to fall out in such a way anymore that you will go separate ways however one will always still refine this inner harmony) and that this state of being will need to go together with actual real life unfoldment of a story of you learning and changing, letting go of ego parts and the relationship getting truly closer by means of letting go of them, a love story of confessing your misalignments and through that coming closer, relating and celebrating

10 HOME understand that you need a community to ground your Harmonious Union in because that will guarantee that you can envelop the full spectrum of experiences that you will start to have, understand that you need a teacher within that community too to be able to develop further and further through the energetic path that is thus set out and the possibility to both get acknowledgement of where one is as well as nudges to develop further in ones blind areas, and that community and teacher that are truly able (in 2020) do not exist anywhere outside Christed School (of the current Christed soul family being currently on earth) and Magician School (this one)

11 GIVE invest with your time and money, your energy resources and your helpful geared thinking to the fullest you can without holding back or ideas about needing results in other words unconditionally, for this signifies to your soul and to Source you truly desire to receive what this is although the Truth of the experience is not known by you yet and you therefore in a way do not know what you submit yourself to

12 RECEIVE reap what you sow autonomously because you fulfilled it yourself, yet connected with us because you can not come to fruition without the new social aspect on the Harmonious Union level, and start co-creating with our Harmonious Union pairs community in your mission to sustain and grow what you have in the heart, so that you continue walking the path towards perfection

What is MEconomy? Five ground rules.

0 Abandon the idea that money comes from ego play and where we historically and socially see that men are very forward in this play, that now women are also going to bust forward and be the same pushers; by leaving this idea to move even further than that there comes space for surrender to a much more true ground than the ego for manifesting money; the idea is to peacefully commit to the creation of value in uniquely your way without the necessity to have the big money stream on top of it and do it any way while building the holistic structures through which the money can come when it arrives

1 To start this process off assess where you truly are in numbers honestly but without judgement, see all numbers below or above zero as a valuable landscape where you can start and find your possibilities in this landscape to invest as the ground rule is always that money comes as you can let it go (or flow)

2 Starting to build will mean steps through the fear and on the Path that will lead you through and out of the current landscape of below-or-above zero, while learning about and thus creating a holistic stand-alone business structure without barter deals except a first phase for testimonials and no more than one step affiliate because it will get unfair after that, while understanding that using cryptocurrencies is possible yet do not absolve you from making the business structures on a stand alone basis and also not from connecting the construct to official constructions when the current often nation regulated jurisdiction is still valid

3 Steps are first taken in the investment area where you work with the start anyway and before you are ready principle and then in the profit area where you co-create with the official business (and additional such as tax) structures

4 Learn your creative identity in the course of going to the state of being of Golden Flow, see how this co-creates with your ultimate co-creational partner your Twin Flame in the state of being that is bigger than Golden Flow called Harmonious Union, learn what creative services you can give to the world from that place and also what part of all necessary business aspects fit you naturally

5 Learn your life's mission after Harmonious Union, because before this state of being is reached in full in your heart, you may have a (correct) rough direction, and that will be falling into place in a detailed, definitive and acknowledging way afterwards or be adjusted by Source according to what it will be for you for eternity, peacefully – and you will come to understand that the truly solid and eternally lasting kind of building of an economic structure only works with relating and surrendering to Source within the Path following MEconomy, otherwise you will once lose it whether now, in the future or in a next lifetime, and that conversely you in fact open up the inherent possibility of making use of your past life's abundance that is still here and still alive and don't even need to do much to make this happen to support you

Nine Purple Dawn Magic principles for present day use:

1 Not the ego

Start with the Soul, start with connection with the Self, and let it be refilled with life by Source. Real magic enhances the flow of energy that comes through this connection into the world, not by applying techniques to ego.

2 Make the connection real

Find the Soul Self that speaks with Source through feeling your body, your energy, and the feelings in your heart: the body floats in an energy that holds it, and your energy is like the air around and inside your body that feeds it. Source is what feeds this energy and wherever that feels to be located for you, it is.

3 Clear yourself out

Ask Source to clear your heart from emotions (surface feelings) so that your deeper, true feelings remain to create with. With these deeper feelings also come thoughts of wisdom. The will is a natural part of this process, and not the only place from where to act, as that would be the ego.

4 Acknowledge yourself

When you get more used to this state, or are more times per day in it, you notice that others are not, and that perhaps most are not. Do not be offended by that difference or persuaded by it that it is not a right way of being; rather understand that the difference is very realistic and in fact constitutes your contribution to humanity and the world, although people may try to make you believe it is the other way round.

5 Universal and individual correspond

Your deeper feelings and wisdom thoughts act as catalysts for what wants to be created by Source, therefore your personal feelings and thoughts in this state are valid for you and the bigger whole simultaneously; they are as universal as individual.

6 Ritual augments what -is-

Any action or inaction in an individually defined ritual space where you come deliberately in this state of being is an act of magic when it is done with the intention to enhance what is already here. Daily life is already the bigger reality where the result takes place.

7 Distinction of goals

When you go through this process more, every time it will become more clear to you what distinct goals are here for you to focus on and what content they have for you; the same goes for the world that is nothing but a natural extension of the Self.

8 Crystal structures

Source presents itself in growing crystalline patterns and they are usually an inherent life mission, further crystallized into a money or professional life and a love or private life that are fully interconnected.

9 Heaven is formed here

Inner growth that includes outer growth, comes from the layer of the individual and how much they heal their inner clockwork of energy in their body in accordance with Source, resulting in the state of being of Golden Flow; and from the layer of the natural bigger soul unit you as an individual are a part of (your twin flame union and your soul family of unions of the same group) that can come to fulfillment in the state of being of Harmonious Union.
